ROAD ACCESS

Mandalay is just off the Hume Freeway, approximately 50km north of Melbourne. The Craigieburn Bypass links directly with the Western Ring Road for easy access. Craigieburn and Wallan are just 10 and 5 minutes away respectively.

TRAIN ACCESS

Craigieburn Railway Station is 16km away from Mandalay, which has the Albury, Craigieburn and Shepparton lines running services through this station. It is part of Melbourne's Connex metropolitan railway network, getting you into the city in about 40 minutes. V/Line trains also run throughout the day.

Wallan Railway Station is 7km away from Mandalay, which has services on the Shepparton and Albury lines. The station has an air-conditioned waiting room, covered walkways, improved lighting and secure free parking. V/Line trains run throughout the day, providing rapid access to the city with a 41-minute journey into Southern Cross Railway Station.

Visit www.viclink.com.au for more information.

BUS ACCESS

Coaches run frequently from Mandalay to Craigieburn and Wallan, and from Craigieburn to Broadmeadows (www.broadmeadowsbus.com.au). There are also plans for a regular bus service between Mandalay and both Wallan and Craigieburn's train stations.
